ABOUT

Nathan Leong is a technical midfielder who pairs top-tier ECNL experience with the academics to match. A 2025 ODP Far West Regional Champion, he brings vision, composure on the ball, and the kind of leadership coaches build a midfield around. On the field, he reads the game two passes ahead, connects play through the spine, and delivers set pieces with weight and intent. Off the field, he's a National Honor Society member carrying a 4.12 weighted GPA (3.8 unweighted) through AP coursework and college courses since sophomore year. He's looking for a college program where he can compete at the highest level, and keep raising the bar as both a player and a student.
